Dear VNUG Member,

ITUG is thrilled to announce that in an effort to continue providing best-in-class education and unparalleled networking opportunities for our NonStop community. ITUG Summit 2007 will be presented in collaboration with HP Technology Forum & Expo 2007 on 18-21 June 2007 at the Mandalay Bay Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Registration is now open!

By presenting ITUG Summit 2007 in collaboration the HP Technology Forum & Expo, ITUG will give the traditional NonStop customers greater access to vendors and information on broader HP technologies while maintaining the commitment to the same level of user training, technical information and vendor exhibition the NonStop community has come to expect from ITUG Summit. This will be the premier North American event for user training and technical information for NonStop customers in 2007.

ITUG's collaboration with the HP Technology Forum & Expo is a milestone for our organization and will undoubtedly broaden our resources, expand our ever-growing network, and give ITUG a stronger voice in the rapidly evolving NonStop community.

The ITUG Summit is a once-a-year, not to be missed opportunity to gain the best access to HP NonStop developers and HP executives and to learn with your peers from around the world. I encourage you to bookmark and visit the ITUG Summit 2007 at HP Technology Forum & Expo homepage at http://www.itug.org/events/summit/2007 often for continued updates on featured speakers, networking opportunities, housing and registration, and SIG and RUG activities.

Register today!

I look forward to seeing many of you in Las Vegas.

Regards,

Tommy Johansson
VNUG Leader
